Wisdom Tooth Extraction

Wisdom tooth removal is only complex when it is a surgical procedure. If a wisdom tooth has erupted normally and is in line with no other complications then removing the wisdom tooth is as safe as removing any other tooth in your mouth.

If a wisdom tooth decays it is like any other tooth in your mouth, eventually the decay will eat down to the nerve and become extremely painful. This can result in tooth loss.

The general guidance after having the wisdom tooth removed is to:

Avoid rinsing or spitting forcibly for at least 24 hours to avoid dislodging any clot.

After this time you can rinse gently with warm water that has had half a teaspoon of salt dissolved into a tumbler.

Take any prescribed painkillers at the intervals given to you by your dentist.

Use an ice bag immediately after the procedure to help keep the swelling down.

Keep your head slightly elevated when you lay down, this can help to control any slight bleeding.

Continue your regular oral health care routine on your other teeth, but do not rinse with mouthwash for at least 24 hours.

Practice News

Exciting Announcement:

Dr Akhil Haria is getting married this summer. And our nurse Zoe Crouch in November 2019.

Dr Haria is leaving us after 9 years at the practice, to move closer to family in London. The Saving Smiles Weedon Team are very sorry to be saying goodbye. We will all miss him and wish him every happiness in the next chapter of his life.

Dr Faizwan Naseeb will be taking his place from September this year.

As a practice, we are regularly investing in our knowledge and equipment to ensure that you get the best dental care.

We have recently invested in a 3D scanner to improve the quality of our crown, bridge & implant work. We hope to use it to straighten teeth in the near future
